

Family Physicians

At Sioux Center Health, we provide the support and education needed to ensure a healthy and safe delivery. Best of all — you establish a trusting relationship with experienced family physicians and nursing staff who help you and your family along the journey. This includes support of experienced OB educators and prenatal care tailored to your individual pregnancy needs. From prenatal care to delivery, your care is family-centered.

LoriAnne Andersen, MD

Training: University of South Dakota School of Medicine

Clinic: Sioux Center

Phone Number: (712) 722-8388

"I enjoy doing OB because it's such a momentous occasion in a person's life.

Whether it's the first baby or the last, it's an opportunity to witness the miracles of one of God's greatest gifts to us. It's an honor to experience that with my patients, and to help prepare them for one of their biggest, but most exciting challenges...parenthood!"

Jason Koelewyn, MD

Training: Loma Linda Medical School

Clinic: Sioux Center

Phone Number: (712) 722-8427

"I enjoy building relationships and taking care of the whole family which includes grandparents, babies, and expectant parents. Being a part of the pregnancy journey, delivering a healthy baby, and seeing that baby grow up are some of the most rewarding parts of practicing medicine."

Alanna Janssen, DO

Training: Kansas City University of Medicine & Bioscience

Clinic: Sioux Center

Phone Number: (712) 722-8398

"I feel it is one of the highest privileges when a mother chooses you to provide their OB care. Nothing in life compares to the miracle that happens when a mother meets her baby for the first time. I am blessed to be able to help these mothers and their children during pregnancy and later as they become parents."

M. Yvonne Rayborn, MD

Training: Oral Roberts University

Clinic: Sioux Center

Phone Number: (712) 722-8398

"I enjoy being a family physician because of the opportunity to take care of entire families. I feel it is a privilege to be allowed to care for people who are expecting a child. While it is one of the biggest transitions that families face, it's also one of the biggest blessings God gives us. The pregnancy and birth process creates a bond between families and their doctor that is quite unique and that is something that I greatly treasure."

David Janssen, MD

Training: University of Iowa Carver College of Medicine

Clinic: Sioux Center

Phone Number: (712) 722-8427

"One of my favorite things about being a family doctor is the privilege of watching a family grow over time. I will never stop being amazed by the miracles of pregnancy and childbirth, and I am honored to partner with each family in this way."

Jamie Vitamvas, MD

Training: University of South Dakota Sanford School of Medicine

Clinic: Hull

Phone Number: (712) 439-1315

"I can think of no greater honor than to be asked to care for a mother and a growing baby during pregnancy and to help bring a new life into the world. Each pregnancy and delivery is a unique and exciting experience and I love being a part of the journey."
